

May 1, Psalms 58, and there is a reward for the righteous,

Faith is what sets us apart from the wicked. Not just any faith, but faith in Jesus Christ alone for our righteousness. We were born from the womb speaking lies like this Psalm says.

We need to see that God is going to judge the wicked, and he makes a distinction between the righteous and the wicked. This is important, because "faith is believing God is a rewarder of those who diligently seek him". When we think there's no distinction between the righteous and the wicked, and that God is not actively judging in the earth it will cause us to be discouraged and think that nothing really matters. All throughout the Bible, God encourages us to keep this distinction clear in our mind. God is not like a giant clock maker that set the earth in motion, and leaves its to itself... Every day that you were able to live before you came to Jesus, he gave you that breath until the precise time he showed his mercy in you. He gave you the fear of him that caused you to seek him. And he is precisely an actively giving every human being, their breath and daily opportunity to seek him. Everything is under his control

Lord revitalize, and us, a sense of distinction between the righteous and the wicked, so we can live passionately for the reward that is eternal.
